

Residues of veterinary medicinal products

Substances contained in plants, plant products, edible animal products or drinking water that originate from the use of veterinary medicines. These substances may include metabolites, decomposition and reaction products.

Retrieved from

"https://worldfoodsafetyalmanac.bfr.berlin/index.php?title=Residues_of_veterinary_medicinal_products&oldid=4785"

This page was last edited on 22 February 2022, at 12:35 from Young.